DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY
WITH A MAJOR IN
INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING -
SUPPLY CHAIN ENGINEERING
TRACK

This program focuses on the design and analysis of manufacturing, distribution, and transportation systems. Students take fundamental coursework in optimization, stochastics, and statistics in order to build a firm base from which to deal with the myriad of issues that arise in settings involving modern supply chain systems modeling and analysis: production and inventory systems, vehicle routing and scheduling, warehousing, and logistics.