MINOR IN MULTIDISCIPLINARY DESIGN/ARTS HISTORY

The College of Design is no longer accepting students into this minor. Please contact the academic department for questions.

The College of Design offers a minor for students in all disciplines at Georgia Tech. The program, which is separate from the minor in Architectural History offered by the School of Architecture, requires completion of one of three available core survey sequences in the history of design (ARCH 2111 and ARCH 2112 [or ARCH 4105 (History of Arch I) and ARCH 4106 (History of Arch II)]) or COA 2241 and COA 2242 or ID 2202) in addition to four courses from at least three lists of courses in: history of architecture, the history of industrial design, the history of the city/landscape/garden, history of art and foreign study, and music history. Architecture and Industrial Design program students must select a core survey sequence outside their major, or select two additional electives from approved lists. Interested students should consult with your academic advisor for more details.

In addition, the College of Design offers a separate undergraduate minor in Multidisciplinary Design/Arts History for students in all disciplines at Georgia Tech. The minor requires completion of the following:
