

FELLOWSHIPS

A large number of individual fellowships are awarded to Georgia Tech students. They vary in value from a few hundred dollars to $30,000 or more per year. Most of them are awarded internally by schools, not by the Office of Graduate Education or the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Even for campus awards for which students from several disciplines are eligible, nominations usually come from within the programs, rather than directly from students.

The only Institute-level fellowship programs are President's Fellowships ($5,500 per year) and Georgia Tech Institute Fellowships ($7,500 per year). These supplement assistantships or other fellowships. Schools nominate incoming students for these programs, and the Office of Graduate Education works with the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid to administer the awards.
