XII. EXAMINATIONS

A. General

1. Some units offer Departmental Exams to undergraduates. For details, please see https://catalog.gatech.edu/academics/undergraduate/credit-tests-scores/departmental-exams/.

2. If the instructor considers it necessary during an examination, students may be required to present their student identification card to the instructor or an authorized representative.

B. Examinations for Advanced Standing

1. Students who offer satisfactory evidence that they are qualified to do so may receive credit for a course by examination. Such an examination is called an "Examination for Advanced Standing."

2. Examinations for advanced standing require the recommendation of the department of instruction in which the course is offered, payment of the appropriate fee to the Office of the Bursar, and authorization by the Office of the Registrar.

3. Examinations for Advanced Standing will usually be offered during the Final Examination Period.

4. A student will not be allowed to take an Examination for Advanced Standing in a given course more than twice.

5. Students will not be allowed to take an Examination for Advanced Standing in a course for which any prerequisite has not been met, except with the consent of the school offering the course.

6. An Examination for Advanced Standing will be reported with an "S" or "U" grade. Neither grade will be included in the calculation of grade-point average (GPA).

7. Advanced standing is not allowed for laboratory or studio classes, except with the consent of the school offering the course.

8. Students may not use more than nine credits of advanced standing to meet degree requirements.

9. The School of Modern Languages does not offer Advanced Standing examinations, although students may receive advanced standing credit for up two modern languages courses in the same language of study for a total of 6 to 8 credits upon successful completion (with a C or higher) of coursework as outlined in numbers 4 and 5 below. The only courses for which Advanced Standing credit may be given are 1001, 1002, 2001, and/or 2002 in the languages currently offered in the School of Modern Languages at Georgia Tech. No 3000- or 4000-level Advanced Standing credit will be granted.

For students seeking Advanced Standing Credit for 1 course (3-4 credits), there are four options:

C. Final Instructional Class Days and Reading Periods

The following applies to the standard academic terms, including the Fall Semester, Spring Semester, and Full Summer Session. It does not apply to the Early Short Summer Session and Late Short Summer Session.

Given the variability in the exact timing of the Full Summer Session, the Office of the Registrar will adjust the final instructional class days and reading periods for this semester only in order to meet required instructional time. This policy replaces the former Dead Week (Week Preceding Final Examinations) policy.

1. Final Instructional Class Days

   a. Final Instructional Class Days are scheduled during each regular term including the Full Summer Session and are the last two instructional days of the term immediately preceding the first reading period.

   b. No tests or quizzes are to be administered on these days. Lab quizzes and/or practicums may be given in courses comprised of both a lecture and a scheduled lab, wherein the lecture carries at least two credits.

   c. For all courses, graded homework or assignments, lab reports, course projects, demonstrations, studio reviews, and presentations may be due during these two days, provided that they are listed on the syllabus at the start of the semester.

   d. All quizzes and tests should be graded and reported to students on or before the last Final Instructional Class Day.

2. Reading Periods

   a. Reading Periods will be designated to provide time for students to prepare for final examinations.

   b. No classes meet. This includes labs, recitations, projects, design/capstone courses, and studios.

   c. No assignments, projects, presentations, or other graded activities are allowed.

   d. Instructors may schedule optional study review sessions for students during reading periods, but no credit or extra credit may be attached to these optional sessions. New content may not be covered, and any materials (e.g., handouts, slides, practice problems, etc.) that are provided at these optional review sessions must be made available to all students. This provision does not require that such optional sessions be audio or video recorded.

3. Requests for exceptions to the Final Instructional Class Day and Reading Period policies may be made in writing by the Dean of the College (or their designee) to the Student Rules and Regulations Committee (SRR). The SRR will then make a recommendation to the Undergraduate Institute Curriculum Committee or Graduate Institute Curriculum Committee, as appropriate, for approval or denial. Requests must be made no later than the academic term prior to the desired term of implementation and will be regularly reviewed.

4. Student concerns may be discussed with the faculty member and/or reported to the Chief Academic Officer of the department of...
A student who fails to notify the instructor of the conflict before the closing of Phase II registration, at the discretion of the instructor:

i. receive a score of zero on the final assessment, or

ii. be given the final assessment during the Conflict Examination Period or at an alternative time during the Final Examination Period.

8. In the event a student is scheduled for three final assessments in one day, the assessment scheduled for the middle period shall be considered in conflict and the student shall notify the instructor no later than two weeks before the first day of the Final Examination Period. In such case, the final assessment in that course shall be given during the Conflict Examination Period or, by agreement of the instructor and the student, at a mutually satisfactory time.

a. If the student notifies the instructor after the above deadline but before the first day of the Final Examination Period, the student shall, at the discretion of the instructor:

i. receive a course grade of "I" (Incomplete), with an opportunity to take a makeup final assessment the following academic term (and have the course grade changed as warranted by the results of the test), or

ii. be given the final assessment during the Conflict Examination Period or at an alternative time during the Final Examination Period, or

iii. be given the final assessment at the time scheduled for the course.

b. A student who fails to notify the instructor of the conflict before the first day of the Final Examination Period shall, at the discretion of the instructor:

i. receive a score of zero on the final assessment, or

ii. be given the final assessment during the Conflict Examination Period or at an alternative time during the Final Examination Period.

9. At the discretion of the instructor, students who arrive late, who exit the room without permission, or who are absent for an excessive period of time may forfeit their opportunity to complete the final assessment.

10. Students will have the full two hours and fifty minutes to complete the final, unless otherwise stated on the syllabus. Students must be notified in writing of any changes to the duration of the final exam before the withdrawal deadline.
